

jsgs mentoring program

johnson-shoyama graduate school of public policy university of regina campus

fall 2010

The Johnson-Shoyama Graduate School Mentoring Program (JSGSMP) assists incoming graduate students, and especially new international students, in the transition to graduate student life at the Johnson-Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy - Regina campus.

This program provides a positive opportunity for new students to get to know more experienced students, to interact with them in academic and social activities. Mentors are encouraged to share their knowledge and experience with their mentee, as well as to support and orient them if they have any questions or concerns.

Please join the JSGSMP if you are interested in being a mentor or a mentee for one semester (Fall 2010, i.e. September-December 2010). International students are strongly encouraged to join the program. Fill out the quick application below by September 27, 2010. The information you provide will be used to match up mentors and mentees according to mutual interests and related considerations. Every attempt will be made to match pairs of students. However, it cannot be guaranteed that all applicants will be paired. Applicants will be contacted by e-mail shortly.

Application form: <http://bit.ly/a3J6q5>

contact us

For more information about this program, questions or comments, please send an e-mail to jsgsmp@gmail.com

about the program

The JSGSMP is a project originally developed by Jong ho Choi, and supported by Elaine Groenendyk, Nadene Perry, Jennifer Wallner, Ken Rasmussen and Bruno Dupeyron.

one more thing

Incoming graduate students are also encouraged to get involved with two associations that provide complementary activities, services and support:

- the Johnson-Shoyama Students' Association (JSSA): jssa@uregina.ca
- the University of Regina Graduate Students' Association (URGSA): <http://uregina.ca/~urgsa>

An online copy of this document can be found on the JSGS website [www.schoolofpublicpolicy.sk.ca] > Current Students > Resources > For Students at the University of Regina campus

Updated September 2, 2010