

If It's Just the Flu, Why are we all Going to Die? Policy Implications and Resource Allocation

Presented by Dr. Jim Cross, Senior Medical Officer, Prince Albert Parkland Health Region

November 25, 2009
7:00 pm to 8:30 pm

Please note: This lecture will take place in Saskatoon and will be video-conferenced to a Regina audience.

Saskatoon Location:
Neatby-Timlin Theatre, Arts Building, 9 Campus Drive
University of Saskatchewan Campus

Regina Location:
JS Window Room, 2nd Floor, Gallery Building
University of Regina College Ave. Campus

Dr. Jim Cross graduated from the University of Saskatchewan in 1973 and practiced mainly in emergency medicine until he woke up on his 55th birthday and decided it was time to move on. Now, he teaches emergency medicine in the Family Medicine Residency Program at the University of Saskatchewan and is the Senior Medical Officer (formerly known as the VP of Medicine) for the Prince Albert Parkland Health Region. He has been involved in disaster planning since 1974 and influenza pandemic planning on a national, provincial and local level since the early 1990s.

This event is being co-sponsored by the School of Public Health at the University of Saskatchewan. The School of Public Health offers a number of programs designed to provide graduate students with a rich array of opportunities in training, research and applied public health practice. These programs include a Master of Public Health, and master and doctoral degrees in biostatistics, and vaccinology and immunotherapeutics. The School of Public Health will be launching an epidemiology program in 2010. For more information on the school's programs, please visit www.usask.ca/sph.

Registration:

Those interested in attending are encouraged to register online at www.schoolofpublicpolicy.sk.ca (please select News and Events, then Events Calendar and the appropriate calendar date). For more information contact us at 306.585.5869 or js_outreach@uregina.ca.